So when the apostles were with Jesus, they kept asking him, " Lord, has the time come for you to free Israel and restore our kingdom?" He replied, "The Father alone has the authority to set those dates and times, and they are not for you to know.
But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you. And you will be my witnesses telling people about me everywhere—in Jerusalem, throughout Judea, in Samaria, and to the ends of the earth." Acts: 1:6+

It is profoundly loving for Jesus to exalt Himself.
He cannot love the nations without putting Himself on display because it is He alone who truly satisfies the human soul. David Mathis

The history of missions is a history of prayer.
Everything vital to the success of the world's evangelization hinges on prayer. John R. Mott

Missions is the overflow of our delight in God because missions is the overflow of God's delight in being God. John Piper

Social responsibility becomes an aspect not of Christian mission only, but also of Christian conversion. It is impossible to be truly converted to God without being thereby converted to our neighbour. John W. Stott

Those who have minutely studied the character of the Saviour will find it difficult to determine whether there is most to admire or to imitate in it – there is so much of both. Anon.

Shortly after Herman Ostry bought a piece of property in Bruno, Nebraska, a nearby creek flooded his new barn with 29 inches of water. Herman's son Mike started thinking about the problem. Mike counted the number of boards, timbers, and nails, estimating the barn's weight at 19,000 pounds. Mike figured that 344 people would have to lift only 55 pounds each to carry the barn to higher ground. On June 30, 1988 Mike ingeniously designed a grid of steel tubing to serve as the barn "handles". Herman counted "one, two, three, lift!" The barn rose up off the ground like it weighed nothing at all. The 344 townspeople carried the 9-ton barn 50 yards up a hill in just 3 minutes!
