This is what the LORD said to me: "Go and buy a linen loincloth and put it on, but do not wash it." So I bought the loincloth as the LORD directed me, and I put it on.
Then the LORD gave me another message: "Take the linen loincloth you are wearing and, and go to the Euphrates River. Hide it there in a hole in the rocks." So I went and hid it by the Euphrates as the LORD had instructed me. A long time afterward the LORD said to me, "Go back to the Euphrates and get the loincloth I told you to hide there." So I went to the Euphrates and dug it out of the hole where I had hidden it. But now it was rotting and falling apart. The loincloth was good for nothing. Then I received this message from the LORD: "This is what the LORD says: This shows how I will rot away the pride of Judah and Jerusalem.. These wicked people refuse to listen to me. They stubbornly follow their own desires and worship other gods.."                      Jer. 13:1+

The truth-seeking spirit and the spirit of faith, instead of being opposed, are in the deepest harmony. The man whose faith is most genuine is most willing to have its assertions tested by the severest scrutiny. And the passion for truth has underlying it a profound conviction that what is real is best; that when we get to the heart of things we shall find there what we most need. Faith is false to itself when it dreads truth, and the desire for truth is prompted by an inner voice of faith.    George S. Merriam

While all inspired truth is necessary and important yet there are certain truths which God emphasizes at certain times. He is ever speaking to the age and generation, and He never speaks at random, but always to the point and to the times...And so from age to age God speaks the special message most needed, so that there is always some portion of divine truth which might properly be called present truth, God's message to the times.    A. B. Simpson

If I speak what is false, I must answer for it; if truth, it will answer for me.    Thomas Fuller

A wisely chosen illustration is almost essential to fasten the truth upon the ordinary mind, and no teacher can afford to neglect this part of his preparation.

Howard Crosby

If our brain is full of prejudice towards the truth or towards the preacher, truth will not enter it nor will it extend to our life. No wonder some believers derive no help already have they decided what they would like to read or hear

Watchman Nee

The Liberal Prime Minister, William Gladstone, in announcing the death of Princess Alice on 14th December 1878 to the House of Commons, told this touching story. "The little daughter of the Princess was seriously ill with diphtheria. And so the doctors told the princess not to kiss her because by kissing her she would endanger her own life by breathing in the child's breath. Once when the child was struggling to breathe, the mother, forgetting herself entirely, took the little one into her arms to keep her from choking to death. Rasping and struggling for her life, the child said, "Mamma, kiss me" Without thinking of herself, Princess Alice tenderly kissed her daughter. And as a result she contracted diphtheria herself and died after some days. " Real love forgets self. Real love knows no danger. Real love doesn't count the cost.
