"Watch out! Don't do your good deeds publicly,, to be admired by others, for you will lose the reward from your Father in heaven. When you give to someone in need, don't do as the hypocrites do—blowing trumpets in the synagogue and streets to call attention to their acts of charity! I tell you the truth, they have received all the reward they will ever get. But when you give to someone in need, don't let your left hand know what your right hand is doing. Give your gifts I private, and your Father who sees everything will reward you. When you pray, don't be like the hypocrites who love to pray publicly on street corners or in the synagogues where everyone can see them.

| There are only two kinds of men: the righteous who think they are sinners and the sinners who think they are righteous. Blaise Pascal | | |
| There are two sorts of hypocrites: ones that are deceived with their outward morality and external religion; and the others are those that are deceived with false discoveries and elevation; which often cry down works, and men's own righteousness. Jonathan Edwards | | |
| God has work to do in this world; and to desert it because of its difficulties and entanglements, is to cast off His authority. It is not enough that we be just, that we be righteous, and walk with God in holiness; but we must also serve our generation, as David did before he fell asleep. God has a work to do; and not to help Him is to oppose Him. John Owen | | |
| Many people live righteously for selfish or misguided reasons Paul Chappell | | |
| It is easy to identify an earthly monarch's trusted staff by their regalia. May it be just as easy to identify those who are trusted by the King of Kings. May our regalia of compassion, love and grace be the colours that mark each of us as one of His trusted servants. Anon. | | |
| The worst tragedy would be to turn the Sermon on the Mount into another form of legalism; it should rather put an end to all legalism. Legalism like the Pharisees' will always fail, not because it is too strict but because it is not strict enough. Thunderously, inarguably, the Sermon on the Mount proves that before God we all stand on level ground: murderers and temper-throwers, adulterers and lusters, thieves and coveters. We are all desperate, and that is in fact the only state appropriate to a human being who wants to know God. Having fallen from the absolute Ideal, we have nowhere to land but in the safety net of absolute grace. Philp Yancey | | |
