The body is not one single organ, but many. Suppose the foot should say, 'Because I am not a hand, I do not belong in the body'. it does belong to the body none the less. Suppose the ear were to say, 'because I am not an eye, I do not belong in the body' it does still belong in the body If the body were all eye, how would it hear? ' If the body were all ear how would it smell? But, in fact, God appointed each limb and organ to its own place in the body, as he chose. If the whole were one single organ,, there would not be a body at all; in fact, however, there are many different organs, but one body.

God has given you a spiritual gift, and it is not the same as a natural ability. That natural talent, rightly sanctified for God's use, often points toward the identity of your spiritual gift. But you should find out the special gift God has given you while you're serving as diligently as you can without that definite information. In fact, in addition to the study of Scripture, the best way to discover and confirm which spiritual gift is yours is through serving.

Significantly, spiritual gifts are not the sign of being Spirit-filled. Sanctification is. As believers are sanctified—coming under the Spirit's control—they are equipped to use their spiritual gifts effectively for the purpose of serving others.

John MacArthur

Giftedness with character is important, but giftedness without character is lethal!

Anon

When we exercise the gifts which Christ has given us we are really saying to our fellow Christians and others: See how much the Lord Jesus Christ loves you and cares for you; He has sent me to serve you in this way; He is using my hands and feet, my lips and ears, to show His love. It is a tragic mistake if we think that the message is: See what a superb Christian I am; see the wonderful gifts I have... Gifts are for service, not self-advancement.

Sinclair Ferguson

he reception of a spiritual gift is not the result of prayer, fasting, tears or sacrifice on the part of the recipient, but is a gift of grace, for the good of the body of Christ

George Gardiner

Our spiritual gifts were not given for your own benefit but for the benefit of others, just as other people were given gifts for your benefit.

The lotus is a beautiful blossom with dazzling whiteness.. It begins its life in the mud of a pond, shoots up through the muck and scum, and blossoms with a dazzling white flower. How does it stay so clean in such an environment? Dr. Welhelm Barthlott of the University of Bonn began to study the phenomenon, and he discovered what he calls the Lotus Effect. The key is surface roughness. For example, imagine a board full of nails. If a piece of paper should float down onto the nails, it will not stick; in fact, a drop of water flowing down the nails will dislodge the paper. This is how the lotus blossom stays clean. If dirt particles should lodge on the petals, the morning dew will sweep them away without even getting the petals wet. By the same analogy, when we clothe ourselves with the righteousness of Christ, it takes and changes our spiritual epidermis so that the filth rolls off because it can't stick
