Note this first: in the last days there will come men who will scoff at religion and live self-indulgent lives, and they will say, ' Where now is the promise of his coming? Our fathers have been laid to their rest, but still everything continues exactly as it has always been since the world began.' In taking this view they lose sight of the fact that there were heavens and earth long ago, created by God's word out of water and with water; and by water the first world was destroyed, the water of the deluge. And the present heavens and earth, again by God's word, have been kept in store for burning; they are being reserved until the day of judgement when the godless will be destroyed. And here is one point, my friends, that you must not lose sight of; with the Lord one day is like a thousand years and a thousand years like one day.

God knows our situation; He will not judge us as if we had no difficulties to overcome. What matters is the sincerity and perseverance of our will to overcome them.

C.S. Lewis

God has wisely kept us in the dark concerning future events and reserved for himself the knowledge of them, that he may train us up in a dependence upon himself and a continued readiness for every event.

Matthew Henry

For if the mystery concealed of old is made manifest to the Apostles through the prophetic writings, and if the prophets, being wise men, understood what proceeded from their own mouths, then the prophets knew what was made manifest to the Apostles.

Origen

How completely satisfying to turn from our limitations to a God who has none. Eternal years lie in His heart. For Him time does not pass, it remains; and those who are in Christ share with Him all the riches of limitless time and endless years. God never hurries. There are no deadlines against which He must work. Only to know this is to quiet our spirits and relax our nerves. For those out of Christ, time is a devouring beast.

A. W. Tozer

In an age of hope, men looked up at the night sky and saw "the heavens." In an age of hopelessness, they call it simply "space."

Peter Kreeft

God welcomes our honest questions – but He does not tolerate cynicism. Never disguise cynicism under a cloak of 'rational and logical dialogue.'

J B Phillips, perhaps the best known of Bible translators wrote of his experiences. He said its power overwhelmed him: "Translating the New Testament", he said, "was like rewiring a house with the mains left on." What a testimony to the use of the Bible! We must be careful how we handle the Scriptures. During the British Coronation ceremony a Bible is presented to the monarch with the words: "We present you with the Bible, the most valuable thing which this world affords. Here is wisdom. This is the Royal law. These are the lively oracles of God."
