Every person must submit to the supreme authorities.
There is no authority but by act of God, and the existing authorities are instituted by Him; consequently anyone who rebels against authority is resisting a divine institution, and those who so resist have themselves to thank for the punishment they will receive. For government, a terror to crime, has no terrors for good behaviour. You wish to have no fear of the authorities? Then continue to do right and you will have their approval, for they are God's agents working for your good. But if you are doing wrong, then you will have cause to fear them; it is not for nothing that they hold the power of the sword, for they are God's agents for punishment, for retribution on the offender. That is why you are obliged to submit. Romans 13:1+

Preacher: tba

Against the persecution of a tyrant the godly have no remedy but prayer. John Calvin Seducers are more dangerous enemies to the church than persecutors. Matthew Henry

How did Jesus expect His disciples to react under persecution? (In Matthew 5:12 He said), "Rejoice and be glad!" We are not to retaliate like an unbeliever, nor sulk like a child, nor lick our wound in self-pity like a dog, nor just grin a bear it like a Stoic, still less pretend we enjoy it like a masochist. What then? We are to rejoice as a Christian should and even "leap for joy" (Lk6:23).
John Stott

Is it not wonderful news to believe that salvation lies outside ourselves? Martin Luther

In Christ alone, and His payment of the penalty for our sins upon the Cross, we find reconciliation to God and ultimate meaning and purpose. Dave Hunt

The vigour of our spiritual life will be in exact proportion to the place held by the Bible in our life and thoughts.
George Müller

The Scripture is both the breeder and feeder of grace.
How is the convert born, but by "the word of truth"? How doth he grow, but by "the sincere milk of the Word."?
Thomas Watson

The Bible is an armoury of heavenly weapons, a laboratory of infallible medicines, a mine of exhaustless wealth. It is a guidebook for every road, a chart for every sea, a medicine for every malady, and a balm for every wound. Rob us of our Bible and our sky has lost its sun.
Thomas Guthrie

Michael Billester once gave a Bible to a humble villager in eastern Poland. Returning a few years later, he learned that 200 people had become believers through the use of that one Bible. When this group of believers gathered to hear him preach, he suggested that before he spoke he would like each person to quote some verses of Scripture. Billester was astonished, combined, these 200 people knew virtually the entire Bible by memory.
