As the Scriptures say: "Not one is righteous—not even one. No one is truly wise; no one is seeking God. All have turned away, and have become useless. No one does good, not a single one. Their talk is foul, like the stench from an open grave. Their tongues are filled with lies. Snake venom drips from their lips Their mouths are full of cursing and bitterness. They rush to commit murder. Destruction and misery always follow them. They don't know where to find peace. The have no fear of God at all. Obviously, the law applies to those to whom it was given, for its purpose is to keep people from having excuses, and to show that the entire world is guilty before God.. For no one can ever be made right with God by doing what the law commands. The law simply shows us how sinful we are.

SABBATH: 29 th . July		Sunset: 21.14
SABBATH SCHOOL;		10.30
DIVINE SERVICE;		12.00
Preacher: Jon Meredith

The faith by which we are justified is faith. Faith is like a channel through which the benefits of Christ flow to us. We are not justified on account of faith; we are justified through faith. It is the work of Christ, not our faith, which is the foundation of justification. Faith itself is a gift of God.
Alister McGrath
Christ's righteousness is so imputed to believers that their justification is not merely the act of a sovereign dispensing with law but the act of a judge declaring the law to be satisfied.
Charles Hodge
Because we are justified solely because of the righteousness of Christ, our role in justification is not to obey but to have faith in Christ... When we seek to justify ourselves by human effort of any kind, we undermine the sufficiency of Christ's atoning work. Only justification by faith alone preserves the honour and glory of what Jesus did on the cross. Jay Harvey
To be justified means more than to be declared "not guilty." It actually means to be declared righteous before God. It means God has imputed or charged the guilt of our sin to His Son, Jesus Christ, and has imputed or credited Christ's righteousness to us.
Jerry Bridges
Indeed this is one of the greatest mysteries in the world – namely, that a righteousness that resides with a Person in heaven should justify me, a sinner on earth. John Bunyan
Justification is not mere forgiveness, though it involves this, yet it is also the positive crediting of righteousness.
Bruce Ware
Our faith in Christ does not free us from works, but from the false opinions concerning works; that is, from the foolish presumption that justification is acquired through works.
Martin Luther

It's very easy to pass judgement on people, especially if we haven't passed through their experience. People who have lost a loved one, lost their job through being made redundant or lost a position of responsibility, often go through a valley of bereavement which can't be understood second-hand. It requires a true friend to stand by them. When our opportunity comes to be a friend indeed, let's be sure to rise to the occasion.
