| You stupid Galatians! You must have been bewitched—you before whose eyes Jesus Christ was openly displayed upon his cross! Answer me one question: did you receive the Spirit by keeping the law or by hearing and believing the gospel message? Can it be that you ware so stupid? You started with the spiritual; do you now look to the material to make you perfect? Have all your great experiences been in vain—if vain indeed they should be? I ask then; when God gives you the Spirit and works miracles among you, why is this? Is it because you keep the law, or is it because you have faith in the gospel message? Look at Abraham: he put his faith in God, and that faith was counted to him as righteousness You may take it, then, that it is the men of faith who are Abraham's sons. And Scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the Gentiles through faith, declared the Gospel to Abraham beforehand. 'In you all nations shall find blessing.' Thus it is the men of faith who share the blessing with faithful Abraham. | | | |

| Justification is through faith, not on account of faith. | | |
| B.B. Warfield | | |
| Our faith in Christ does not free us from works, but from the false opinions concerning works; that is, from the foolish presumption that justification is acquired through works. | | |
| Martin Luther | | |
| The Bible recognizes no faith that does not lead to obedience, nor does it recognize any obedience that does not spring from faith. The two are at opposite sides of the same coin | | |
| A. W. Tozer | | |
| For we do not keep the Law to be saved. But rather, in keeping the Law we show ourselves to already have gained salvation through the cross of Christ. In light of the cross of Christ and the liberation from the (sting) of sin we receive from it, we are now free to keep the Law | | |
| C. M. McMahon | | |
| The truth is that, though we were justified by faith alone, the faith that justifies is never alone [it always produces fruit, "good works,"...a transformed life]. | | |
| J. L. Packer | | |
| If thou sin, the word of God is thy adversary. It is the adversary of thy will till it become the author of thy salvation. | | |
| Augustine | | |
| We may be certain that whatever God has made prominent in His Word, He intended to be conspicuous in our lives. | | |
| C. Spurgeon | | |
| Read the Scripture, not only as a history, but as a love-letter sent to you from God. | | |
| Thomas Watson | | |
| The permanence of God's character guarantees the fulfilment of his promises. | | |

| Pastor Vsevolod Lytkin was born in Siberia, his parents, atheistic university professors, taught him to think for himself. Being told there was no God, he reasoned that there might be a God, so began looking. All the library books he could find were atheistic but often quoted Bible passages to mock or refute them. Finding an encyclopaedia he copied every Bible verse he could find and was soon praying and asking God to forgive him. Even in atheistic surroundings one can seek and find. | | |
