Does the law, them, contradict the promises? No, Never! If a law had been given that had power to bestow life, then indeed righteousness would have come from keeping the law. But Scripture has declared the whole world to be prisoners in subjection to sin, so that faith in Jesus Christ may be the ground on which the promised blessing is given, and given to those who have such faith. Before this faith came we were close prisoners in the custody of law, pending the revelation of faith. Thus the law was a kind of tutor in charge until Christ should come, when we should be justified through faith; and now that faith has come, the tutor’s charge is at an end. Gal. 3:21+

For a work to be considered good it must not only conform outwardly to the law of God, but it must be motivated inwardly by a sincere love for God. R. C. Sproul

The law may express sin but it cannot suppress sin. Thomas Adams

God’s Law convicts of sin only as I appreciate whose Law it is I have broken. Derek Prime God’s law is an expression of His grace because it is also an expression of His character. Commands show us what God is like, what He prizes, what He detests, what it means to be holy as God is holy. To hate all rules is to hate God Himself who ordained His rules to reflect His nature. The law is God’s plan for His sanctified people to enjoy communion with Him. Kevin De Young

The law by which God rules us is as dear to Him as the Gospel by which He saves us. William Secker

Should all the hosts of death and powers of hell unknown put their most dreadful forms of rage and malice on, I shall be safe, for Christ displays superior power and guardian grace. Isaac Watts

They Must be slain by the law before they can be made alive by the Gospel C. Spurgeon

Robert Robinson had been saved out of a tempestuous life of sin through George Whitfield’s ministry . Shortly after that Robinson wrote the hymn Come, Thou Fount. ‘Come, Thou Fount of ev’ry blessing, Streams of mercy, never ceasing, Call for songs of loudest praise.’ Sadly, Robinson wandered far from those streams and, like the Prodigal Son, journeyed into the distant country of carnality. Until one day—he was travelling by stagecoach and sitting beside a young woman engrossed in her book. She ran across a verse she thought was beautiful and asked him what he thought of it. ‘Prone to wander— Lord, I feel it—Prone to leave the God I love.’ Bursting into tears, Robinson said, "Madam, I am the poor unhappy man who wrote that hymn many years ago, and I would give a thousand worlds, if I had them, to enjoy the feelings I had then." Although greatly surprised, she reassured him that the "streams of mercy" mentioned in his song still flowed. Mr. Robinson was deeply touched. Turning his "wandering heart" to the Lord, he was restored to full fellowship.
