Therefore, now that we have been justified by faith, let us continue at peace with God through our lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have been allowed to enter the sphere of God's grace, where we now stand. Let us exult in the hope of the divine splendour that is to be ours. More than this; let us even exult in our present sufferings, because we know that suffering trains us to endure, and endurance brings proof that we have stood the test, and this proof is the ground of hope. Such a hope is no mockery, because God's love has flooded our inmost heart through the Holy Spirit he has given us. For at the very time when we were still powerless, then Christ died for the wicked. Rom. 5:1+

To be justified means more than to be declared "not guilty." It actually means to be declared righteous before God. It means God has imputed or charged the guilt of our sin to His Son, Jesus Christ, and has imputed or redited Christ's righteousness to us. Jerry Bridges

Preacher: Adriana Fodor

Night and day I pondered until I saw the connection between the justice of God and the statement that 'the just shall live by his faith.' Then I grasped that the justice of God is that righteousness by which through grace and sheer mercy God justifies us through faith. Thereupon I felt myself to be reborn and to have gone through open doors into paradise. Martin Luther

There are three things which the true Christian desires in respect to sin: Justification, that it may not condemn; sanctification, that it may not reign; and glorification, that it may not be. Richard Cecil

The faith by which we are justified is faith. Faith is like a channel through which the benefits of Christ flow to us.
We are not justified on account of faith; we are justified through faith. It is the work of Christ, not our faith, which is the foundation of justification. Faith itself is a gift of God.
Alister McGrath

Indeed this is one of the greatest mysteries in the world - namely, that a righteousness that resides with a Person in heaven should justify me, a sinner on earth. John Bunyan

Justification is away beyond anything that a human court of justice ever realizes. It is putting the sinner in the condition before God as if he had never sinned at all. It is giving him a standing in the merit of Jesus Christ of absolute innocency before God. A.C. Dixon

Justification is the main hinge on which salvation turns John Calvin

The Gideon's tell the true story about a taxi driver who was quite a scoundrel. His name is Herbie and he lived and worked in Manilla in the Philippines. He, like many people, wanted to learn English, but solely for the purpose of being able to swindle his customers out of their money.
He grabbed the first English book he could find and began to study it. As he read his English translation of the NT, it touched his heart and he eventually became a Christian.
Not only that, he later went to Bible college and became a pastor and is currently a pastor of a church and the coordinator of the Bible League in the Philippines
