First he says, 'Sacrifices and offerings, whole-offerings, and sin-offerings, thou didst not desire nor delight in' - although the Law prescribes them—and then he says, 'I have come to do they will.' He thus annuls the former to establish the latter. And it is by the will of God that we have been consecrated, through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once and for all. Every priest stands performing his service daily and offering time after time the same sacrifice, which can never remove sin. Heb. 11:8+

All thought, cleverness, knowledge, talent and gift-which the world superstitiously worships-must be set aside in order to enable one to trust the Lord wholly. The Lord's people should persistently acknowledge their own unworthiness and incompetency. Watchman Nee

All Christians are but God's stewards. Everything we have is on loan from the Lord, entrusted to us for a while to use in serving Him
John MacArthur

When wealth is lost, nothing is lost; when health is lost, something is lost; when character is lost, all is lost.

Billy Graham

Character is always lost when a high ideal is sacrificed on the altar of conformity and popularity. Charles Spurgeon

I am only one, but still I am one. I cannot do everything, but still I can do something; and because I cannot do everything, I will not refuse to do something that I can do. Helen Keller

Do daily and hourly your duty; do it patiently and thoroughly. Do it as it presents itself; do it at the moment, and let it be its own reward. Never mind whether it is known and acknowledged or not, but do not fail to do it. James H. Aughey

Even as he who is troubled with a burning fever is hotter than he who is parched with the sun; so is that man more troubled who hath a guilty conscience than a good man by all outward afflictions. Daniel Cawdray

Conscience tells us that we ought to do right, but it does not tell us what right is – that we are taught by God's word.

Henry Trumbull

The funeral service for Glyn Meredith will take place on Monday 12th. February at 10.00 in the church, followed by cremation in Narberth at 12.15 Donations will be in aid of Marie Curie

An example of a modern servant leader was Sam Walton. He despised corporate fat cats. He could, and would, handle the cash register as well as stock the shelves in any of his Wal-Mart stores. He drove an old, rusty, dented pickup not to prove a point but because it still had plenty of good mileage left in it. He told his staff on more than one occasion that "if American management is going to say to their workers that we're all in this together, they're going to have to stop this foolishness of paying themselves $3 million and $4 million bonuses every year and riding around everywhere in limos and corporate jets like they're so much better than everybody else."
