Jesus was leaving the temple when his disciples came and pointed to the temple buildings. He answered, "Yes, look at it all. I tell you this: not one stone will be left upon another; it will all be thrown down." When he was sitting on the Mount of Olives the disciples came to speak to him privately. "Tell us," they said, "when will this happen? And what will be the signal of your coming and the end of the age?" Jesus replied: "Take care that no one misleads you. For many will come claiming my name and saying, 'I am the Messiah'; and many will be misled by them Matt. 24:1+

When the author walks on the stage the play is over. God is going to invade, all right - something so beautiful to some of us and so terrible to others that none of us will have any choice left? For this time it will be God without disguise. It will be too late then to choose your side. C.S. Lewis

To learn strong faith is to endure great trials. I have learned my faith by standing firm amid severe testings'.
George Mueller

Christian, wear your shield close to your armour and cry earnestly to God, that by His Spirit you may endure to the end.
Alistair Beg

Let us consider this settled: that no one who has made progress in the school of Christ who does not joyfully await the day of death and final resurrection... Let us not hesitate to await the Lord's coming, not only with longing, but also with groaning and sighs, as the happiest thing of all. He will come to us as Redeemer.
John Calvin

It is our responsibility to discover our talents, to accept them as from God, to develop them through education and training, and to use them for His glory.
J. Grant Howard

What God may hereafter require of you, you must not give yourself the least trouble about. Everything He gives you to do, you must do as well as ever you can, and that is the best possible preparation for what He may want you to do next. If people would but do what they have to do, they would always find themselves ready for what came next.
George MacDonald

John Wesley and George Whitefield - the two great preachers of the 18th Century Evangelical Revival - were both great men of God. Sadly having been great friends at Oxford, they fell out over the Arminian/Calvinist debate. There was quite a bit of animosity between their followers. Once, one of Whitefield's followers said to him: "We won't see John Wesley in heaven, will we?" To which Whitefield humbly replied "Yes, you're right, we won't see him in heaven. He will be so close to the Throne of God and we will be so far away, that we won't be able to see him.!" What a lovely attitude Whitefield had. Despite profoundly disagreeing with Wesley, Whitefield recognized John Wesley as being a man of God. Indeed the respect for the other was so great that when Whitefield died in The USA, John Wesley preached at George Whitefield's memorial service in London.
