He took his stand on the sea-shore. Then out of the sea I saw a beast rising; it had ten horns and seven heads. On its horns were ten diadems, and on each head a blasphemous name. The beast I saw was like a leopard, but its feet were like a bear's and its mouth like a lion's mouth. The dragon conferred upon it his power and rule, and great authority. One of its head appeared to have received a death-blow; but the mortal wound was healed. The whole world went after the beast in wondering admiration. Men worshipped the dragon because he had conferred his authority upon the beast; they worshipped the beast also, and chanted, "Who is like the Beast? Who can fight against it?" Rev. 13:1+

Unless believers appreciate their own weakness, that is, know how incompetent they are in themselves to encounter the supernatural, they shall be deceived.
Watchman Nee

Any time we open ourselves up to fear, we fall prey to his deceptions and intimidations. Yet, if we submit our hearts to God and stand in faith, we can resist those first fearful thoughts. As we yield to God we can master our reactions to fear and the enemy will soon flee. Francis Frangipane

Now, it should not surprise us that there are strong deceptions or "powerful delusions" around today, for this is exactly what the Scriptures predict will happen. All the way through the New Testament we are warned of these days - over and over again. . Andrew Strom

If Eve could be swayed in a flawless environment, what is our protection in the midst of one that's corrupt? It's God's Word. John Bevere

There are two equal and opposite errors into which our race can fall about the devils. One is to disbelieve in their existence, the other is to believe and to feel an unhealthy interest in them! C.S. Lewis

Men never do evil so completely and cheerfully as when they do it from religious conviction. Blaise Pascal

What can be more foolish than to think that all this rare fabric of heaven and earth could come by chance, when all the skill of science is not able to make an oyster? Jeremy Taylor

Napoleon's army was camped on the hills above the border town of Feldkirch, Austria, poised to attack. On Easter Sunday morning, the citizens met to decide whether to try to defend themselves or surrender. The pastor rose and addressed the frightened people and said, "Friends, we have been counting on our own strength, and apparently that has failed. Since this is the day of our Lord's resurrection, let us just ring the bells, have our services, and leave the matter in His hands. We know only our weakness, and not the power of God to defend us." The people agreed and the church bells rang. Napoleon's army heard the sudden peal of bells and mistook that for jubilation over the arrival of the Austrian army. Before the service ended, they had retreated.
