During this period, when disciples were growing in number, there was disagreement between those of them who spoke Greek and those who spoke the language of the Jews. The former party complained that their widows were being overlooked in the daily distribution. So the Twelve called the whole body of the disciples together and said, "It would be a grave mistake for us to neglect the word of God in order to wait at table. Therefore, friends, look out seven men of good reputation from you number, men full of the Spirit and of wisdom, and we will appoint them to deal with these matters, while we devote ourselves to prayer and to the ministry of the Word." Acts .6:1+

We are all priests before God, there is no such distinction as 'secular or sacred.' In fact, the opposite of sacred is not secular; the opposite of sacred is profane. In short, no follower of Christ does secular work. We all have a sacred calling. Ravi Zacharias

When we seek to pit God's law against His love we show ourselves ignorant of both. R.C. Sproul Jr.

Each generation of the church in each setting has the responsibility of communicating the gospel in understandable terms, considering the language and thought-forms of that setting. Francis Schaeffer

If the devil were wise enough and would stand by in silence and let the Gospel be preached, he would suffer less harm. For when there is no battle for the Gospel it rusts and it finds no cause and no occasion to show its vigour and power. Therefore, nothing better can befall the Gospel than that the world should fight it with force and cunning. Martin Luther

But Paul, in his preaching of the Gospel, is a debtor to deliver the word not to Barbarians only, but also to Greeks, and not only to the unwise, who would easily agree with him, but also to the wise. Origen

Other men may preach the Gospel better than I, but no man can preach a better Gospel. George Whitefield

The late great business man and entrepreneur, James Cash Penney (1875 - 1971), founder of the J.C. Penney stores, in his autobiography entitled "Fifty Years with the Golden Rule," tells of his being in the Battle Creek Sanitarium one night when he thought he was dying. He wrote several letters and went back to bed thinking he would not be alive the next morning. But, he was alive when morning came. He got up and as he was walking down the hall he heard some people singing the words of the late great hymnist, Civilla (Durfee) Martin's, hymn in the hospital's chapel: "Be not dismayed whate'er betide. God will take care of you." It was a few people having an early morning prayer meeting; and, he slipped inside and sat at the back! Someone read from the Holy Bible and led the group in prayer! James Cash Penney spontaneously said, "Lord, I can do nothing. Will You take care of me?" He says, "In the next few moments something happened to me...it was a miracle." At that moment, he became a born-again Christian true believer! He saw something big in that little prayer meeting and it saved him!
