God gave Paul the power to perform great miracles. People even took handkerchiefs and aprons that had touched Paul's body, and they carried them to everyone who was sick. All the sick people were healed, and the evil spirits went out. Some Jewish men started going around trying to force out evil spirits by using the name of the Lord Jesus. They said to the spirits, "Come out in the name of that same Jesus that Paul preaches about.!" Sven sons of a Jewish high priest were doing this. When an evil spirit said to them, "I know Jesus! And I have heard of Paul. But who are you?" Then the man with the evil spirit jumped upon them and beat them up. They ran out of the house naked and bruised.

One who gains strength by overcoming obstacles possesses the only strength which can overcome adversity

Albert Schweitzer

If we cannot believe God when circumstances seem be against us, we do not believe Him at all.      C. H. Spurgeon

Life asks not merely what you can do; it asks how much can you endure and not be spoiled.      H. E. Fosdick

I never have any difficulty believing in miracles, since I experienced the miracle of a change in my own heart.
Augustine

Friend, it is through him that you are speaking, it is he whom you breathe, and you do not know it! For your eye is blind, your heart hardened. But, if you wish, you can be cured.
Entrust yourself to the doctor, and he will open the eyes of your soul and your heart. Who is the doctor? God, using his word and his wisdom.      Theophilus of Antioch

Although we have responsibilities to others, we are primarily accountable to God. It is before him that we stand, and to him that one day we must give an account. We should not therefore rate human opinion too highly, becoming depressed when criticized and elated when flattered.      John R. W. Stott Whatever is only almost true is quite false, and among the most dangerous of errors, because being so near truth, it is the more likely to lead astray.      H. W. Beecher

FANNIE JOHNSTON FLINT, who was cancerous, arthritic, incontinent, blind, orphaned, managed enough ability to get a pen into her warped hands and write a hymn, many of them, in fact. This is one of hers :

He giveth more grace when the burdens grow greater; He sendeth more strength when the labours increase. To added affliction He addeth his mercy, To multiplied trials His multiplied peace. When we have exhausted our store of endurance, When our strength has failed as the day is half done, When we reach the end of our hoarded resources, Our Father's full giving has only begun. His love has no limit, His grace has no measure, His power has no boundaries known unto men. For out of His infinite riches in Jesus, He giveth and giveth and giveth again.
