"I am not talking about all of you, I know the ones I have chosen. But what the Scriptures say must come true. And they say, "The man who ate with me has turned against me." I am telling you this before it all happens. Then when it does happen, you will believe who I am. I tell you for certain that anyone who welcomes my messengers also welcomes me, and anyone who welcomes me welcomes the one who sent me." After Jesus had said these things, he was deeply troubled, and told His disciples, , "I tell you for certain that one of you will betray me," They were confused about what he meant, and just stared at each other. John13:18+

Knowledge is vain and fruitless which is not reduced to practice. Matthew Henry
In order to have conviction as to the need of prayer and action, we must have knowledge. John R. Mott
Knowledge, not improved and well employed, will only increase our condemnation at the last day. J.C. Ryle
Every syllable of every statute, every clause of every commandment that ever proceeded from the mouth of God was divinely designed to bring those who would obey into the greatest imaginable happiness of heart. Don't swallow God's law like castor oil. For when you understand His intent, it will be like honey on your lips and sweetness to your soul. Sam Storms.

Only an unconditional and unrestricted acceptance of the reproach of conscience with a corresponding willingness to do what is revealed can show how perfect is our consecration, how truly we hate sin how sincerely we desire to do God's will. Watchman Nee
He that chooses God, devotes himself to God as the vessels of the sanctuary were consecrated and set apart from common to holy uses, so he that has chosen God to be his God, has dedicated himself to God, and will no more be devoted to profane uses. Thomas Watson
It is indeed praiseworthy for a believer to consecrate his life to the Lord, but he must never do so lightly or thoughtlessly. Before committing your life in service to God today, count the cost, for "No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God" (Luke 9:62). Woodrow Kroll
The union of Christians to Christ, their common head, and by means of the influence they derive from him, one to another, may be illustrated by the loadstone. It not only attracts the particles of iron to itself by the magnetic virtue, but by this virtue it unites them one to another. Richard Cecil
The unity of Christendom is not a luxury, but a necessity. The World will go limping until Christ's prayer that all may be one is answered. We must have unity, not at all costs, but at all risks. A unified Church is the only offering we dare present to the coming Christ, for in it alone will He find room to dwell. Charles H. Brent.
On the essentials, unity. On the nonessentials, liberty. In everything, charity. Jack Hyles

A.D. 110. Ignatius, overseer of the church in Antioch, was arrested and sent to Rome for preaching Christ. Facing martyrdom, he wrote this to the church at Rome. "Now I begin to be a disciple. I care for nothing of visible or invisible things so that I may but win Christ. Let fire and the cross, let the companies of wild beasts, let breaking of bones and tearing of limbs, let the grinding of the whole body, and all the malice of the devil, come upon me; be it so, only may I win Christ Jesus." When he was sentenced to be fed to lions, and could even hear their roaring, he said, "I am the wheat of Christ; I am going to be ground with the teeth of wild beasts that I may be found pure bread."
