And Adam kkew Eve his wife; and she conceived, and bare Cain, and said, I have gotten a man from the LORD . And again she bare his brother Abel. And Abel was a keeper of sheep, but Cain was a tiller of the ground. And in process of time it came to pass, that Cain brough of the fruit of the ground and offering unto the LORD. And Abel, he also brought of the firstlings of his flock and of the fat thereof. And the LORD has respect unto Abel and his offering.. Gen. 4:1+

I am so thankful that God loves us so much that He is willing to lead us through desert seasons and difficult times in order to grow us, teach us, and complete a fresh work inside of us. In His mercy and kindness He remains close in every moment of pain, every poor decision, and every heartache. His promises hold true and He is faithful to every single word. Kim Walker Smith

Thou hast created us for Thyself, and our heart is not quiet until it rests in Thee. Augustine

When humans should have become as perfect in voluntary obedience as the inanimate creation is in its lifeless obedience, then they will put on its glory, or rather that greater glory of which Nature is only the first sketch. C. S. Lewis

The unceasing activity of the Creator, whereby in overflowing bounty and goodwill, He upholds His creatures in ordered existence, guides and governs all events, circumstances, and free acts of angels and men, and directs everything to its appointed goal, for His own glory. J. L. Packer

God built into the creation a variety of cultural spheres, such as the family, economics, politics, art, and intellectual inquiry. Each of these spheres has its own proper "business" and needs its own unique pattern of authority. When we confuse spheres, by violating the proper boundaries of church and state, for instance, or reducing the academic life to a business enterprise, we transgress the patterns that God has set. Abraham Kuyper

All Christians are but God's stewards. Everything we have is on loan from the Lord, entrusted to us for a while to use in serving Him. John MacArthur

Sins such as envy, jealousy, covetousness, and greed very markedly reveal a focus on self. Instead you are to please God and bless others by practicing biblical stewardship which is to care for and give of the physical and spiritual resources that God has provided for you. John Broger

A youth minister was attending a Special Olympics where handicapped children competed with tremendous dedication & enthusiasm. In the 220-yard dash, Contestants lined up at the starting line, & at the signal, started running as fast as they could. One boy by the name of Andrew quickly took the lead, & was soon about 50 yards ahead. As he approached the final turn he looked back & saw that his best friend had fallen & hurt himself on the track. Andrew stopped & looked at the finish line. Then he looked back at his friend. People were hollering, "Run, Andrew, run" But he didn't. He went back & got his friend, helped him up, brushed off the cinders. And hand in hand, they crossed the finishing line last. But as they did, the people cheered, because there are some things more important than winning.
